The College is awaiting further information regarding the Department of Education's guidance on the Free College Benefit for current students. We will update this response as information becomes available, please check back frequently.

I am a new student who anticipated using the Free College Benefit, am I still able to enroll in classes?

EGCC is not accepting new students into the Free College Benefit.

Will the Free College Benefit still be in place for Summer '22?

The Department of Education's directive does not impact the Summer 2022 Semester.

Can I enroll at EGCC and Pay?

Yes, you can still enroll as a student at, <https://egcc.edu/admission/new/>.

Can I enroll at EGCC and apply for Financial Aid?

Yes, as a new student, not associated with the Free College Benefit.

Is the school closing?

No, Eastern Gateway is not closing our online or campus locations.

Who all does this impact?

Students participating in: The Free College Benefit.

Will my credits transfer from EGCC that I have complete?

Many of Eastern Gateway's transfer partnerships with colleges and universities are based on individual programs. Eastern Gateway has 250 transfer pathway agreements with institutions that enable our students to continue their educational journey in their programs.

Is EGCC working to resolve this issue?

Yes, EGCC's Title IV Attorneys have filed an Appeal with the Administrative Actions Appeals Services Group. This appeals agency is part of the U.S. Department of Education established to resolve actions taken in federal program reviews. This is our 1st step in appealing the cease-and-desist letter. The college also sent emails to Secretary, Undersecretary, and the Chief Operating Office of the U.S. Department of Education requesting a meeting on how this review impacts our current students.
